Information for Parents

Parents, ACT requires that your child complete the account creation and test registration processes. There are questions about your child's interests and college and career plans that are best answered by the student, and there is critical information about the testing process that your child will need to know. If you are assisting your child with registration, please be sure to always provide your child's information, not your own.

Each student must have his/her own account.

Due to Internet privacy laws, students younger than 13 years of age cannot have an ACT Web account. To register students younger than 13, you will need to request a registration packet from us, or get a registration packet from your local high school.

Your Email Address

Email is an important communication link between you and ACT. The address you enter is where we will send critical messages, including information about accessing your account. In many cases, we will send reminders to print your admission ticket, updates to your registration, and other alerts. Your email address will also be a part of your record, included in score reports, and used in accordance with our Privacy Policy.

You can expect to receive email regarding your ACT information from any of the following email addresses:
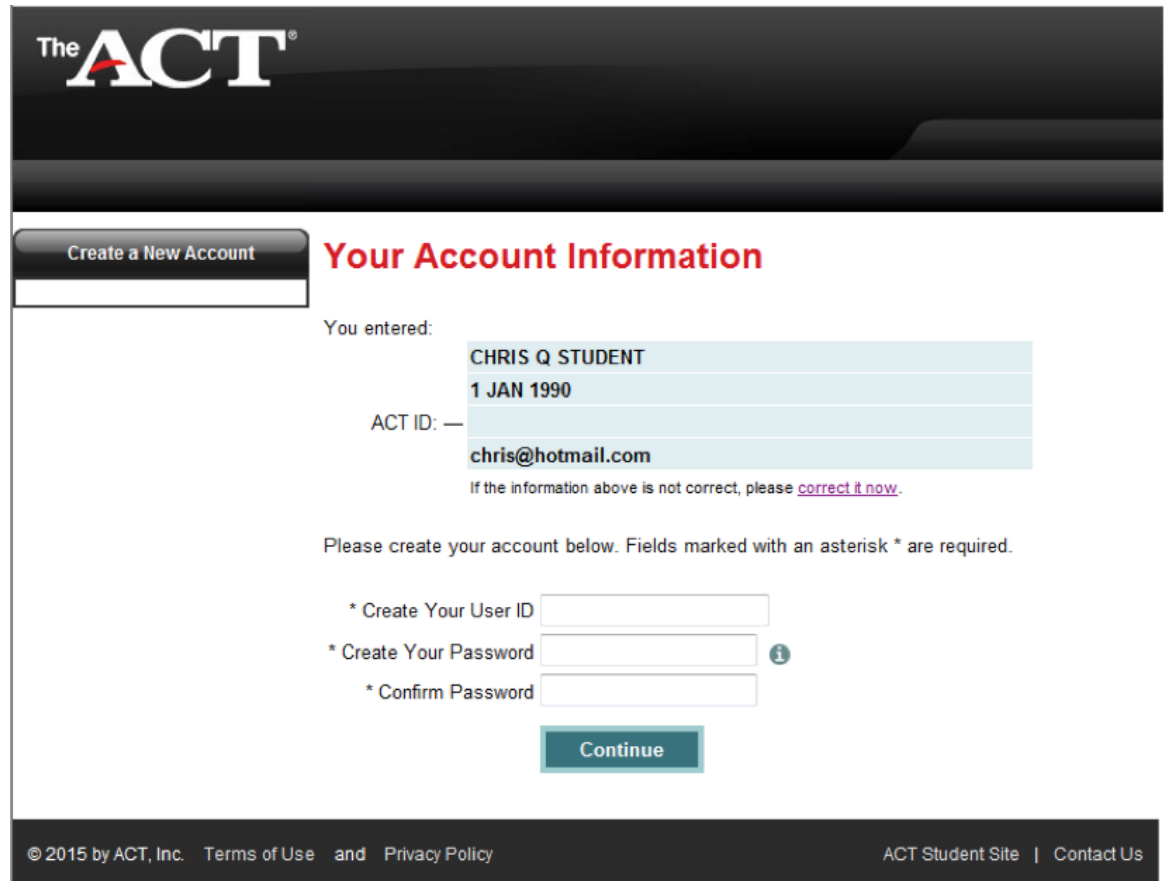

ACT-Reg@act.org
ACT-WebAccount@act.org
ACT-Order@act.org
ACT-Notice@act.org
ACT-Billing@act.org

To avoid losing messages to spam filters, please add these to your address book.
